WALLER BEATS DODGE FOR THE RUGGLES CUP.

Holder of Eastern Long Island Tennis Championship Wins Trophy for Third Time.

SOUTHAMPTON, L. I., Aug. 15.—Play in the Long Island tennis championship tournament was brought to a close to-day on the courts of the Meadowbrook Club.

Stewart Waller defeated Guy Phelps Dodge in the challenge contest for the possession of the Ruggles Cup, which is emblematic of the championship of Eastern Long Island. Waller took his victory in three straight sets, by the score of 7-5, 6-2, 6-3.

The result gives the cup into the permanent possession of Waller by virtue of it being his third victory in defense of his holding of the title and trophy.

Later in the morning an exhibition doubles match was played, with the Doherty brothers on one side of the net and Dr. Joshua Pim and Ollie Campbell as the opposing pair.

Waller and Dodge both played fast tennis from the start. Dodge, in his one-time Yale player, put up a plucky defensive game in the first set. He

SARATOGA RACEGOERS WILL MISS PLUNGER GATES.

He Quits the Races to Try His Hand at Another Game in Denver.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Aug. 16.—John W. Gates forsook Saratoga yesterday. He hated to go, but some sort of a winning game in far away Denver needed his attention, and he was compelled to leave his favorite sport for a time. Mr. Gates will be missed. He was a spectacular figure at all times. In the ring he was followed about by dozens who were merely curious to hear him as he said "I'll bet a million."

On the lawn he was always gaped at. His photo has been printed so often that every one who reads newspapers knows him. Mr. Gates' last bet at Saratoga was $250 on Locket, a 30-to-1 chance. Locket is still running. If Mr. Gates had a stable of his own and a good one that he could feel confidence in there is no telling what he would do to the betting ring. His $50,000 bet on High Chancellor on Thursday is merely a sample.

Mr. Gates says his motto is: "Make up your mind and stick to it, and then go after it with both feet, and don't let up until you get it." What an awful thing it would be for racing if this American Steel Wire magnate should make up his mind to break the betting ring. When Gates returns to the track, he will be a different man. He will be a professional. Probably not before the fall meeting at Sheephead.

$5,000 for River Pirate.

Mr. Gates has sold to Messrs. Thomas Hickcock and John G. Madden the two-year-old colt River Pirate, price $5,000.

TOOK JIM CORBETT FOR A MERE FARMER

Three Soldiers Tackled Pugilist in the Road—Knocked Them Out and Pinned Card on Their Coats.

Under the impression that he was an ordinary farmer three soldiers from Williams Point made a remark to James J. Corbett, and to-day each was nursing a painful bruise. They did not know Corbett was their adversary until they found his card attached to their coats after recovering from his blows.

Corbett lives on a small farm at Bayville, L. I., and spends considerable of his time in tending to his crops. He was driving along the road yesterday clad in blue overalls and wore an old hat. As he passed three soldiers they made some offensive remarks. Corbett decided that they were making a stinging blow on the face. Corbett landed the man flat on the road with one punch. Then the other two soldiers started in to "do" the pugilist. He struck and the other two also measured their length with the soldiers. This was in a spirit of fun, pinned one of his cards on each of their coats and went away.

When the men saw the cards they looked at one another in amazement, and after looking back to Williams Point told the men in the bar how they had whipped James J. Corbett.

FINAL TENNIS MATCH GOES TO MRS. WALLACH.

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 15.—The final match in the ladies' singles lawn tennis tournament at the Casino was played this morning in the presence of a large number of spectators. This match was between the sisters, Mrs. Barker Wallach and Miss Edna Barker, with the former a general favorite.

Mrs. Barker Wallach started in for what looked like an easy victory, winning the first two sets, 6-2, but she was unable to hold that advantage, and Miss Barker, putting up an excellent game, took the third and fourth sets, 6-4 and 6-3, respectively, showing better endurance, won the deciding set of the tournament.

NEW HAVEN TEAM AT HOBOKEN TO-MORROW.

Deegan or Hope to Pitch Against Connecticut League Leaders.

The Hoboken team, which has won six out of the last eight games played, will meet the strong New Haven team of the Connecticut State League, the leaders in that league at present, at the St. George Cricket Grounds in Hoboken to-morrow. These teams ought to furnish a close and exciting game as both are composed of hustling ball players.

Deegan or Hope will do the pitching for Hoboken. This is the first time the champion New Haven have played in Hoboken this season.

STRANGELY SIMILAR CAREERS OF TWO EX-ORIOLES WHO ARE NOW MANAGERS OF LEAGUE TEAMS.

The baseball fortunes of John McGraw and "Joe" Kelley run in strangely parallel lines. Both were members of Ned Hanlon's champion team, and home ties, could both to desert to the Baltimore American League club in which they were financially interested. The latest turn of the wheel brings them back simultaneously to the National League, and both now up as captains.

BROOKLYNS OPEN WITH ST. LOUIS. CAPT. BROWN PAYS $6,000 FOR COLT.

Superbas Begin Their Western Trip in Crippled Condition—Hughes and O'Neill the Pitchers for First Game.

(Special to The Evening World.) Brooklyn, Aug. 15.—The Brooklyn Superbas started their Western trip here to-day in a seriously crippled condition, and it looks as if they have only a miracle keep them in second place until they get home again. They have only eight scheduled games to play, but there are four postponed matches to work off, one each at St. Louis and Cincinnati, and two at Pittsburgh, making twelve in all. Unless the team braces up Hanlon will have to play the fox to the limit in order to dodge some of these postponed games.

The cripples among the Brooklyn Superbas are Charley Irwin, Hughie Ahearn and Doc Newton, while Jimmy Sheppard is still at home in Columbia, Pa., mourning the death of his father. Irwin caught cold in his back the other day and got a strain in addition. His last game at Brooklyn. He will be out of it for a week at least, giving Eddie Wheeler a chance to show what he can do at third.

The absence of Sheppard puts Hanlon in a bad hole. Johnny Ward, who did away his release just before the Superbas started West, and he was taken along. The result is that Hanlon will have to put one of his pitchers in the outfield temporarily. The choice fell to Kilson, who is the most reliable bat for among the Superbas twirlers. "Doc" Newton has a severe cold, and is also growing a wisdom tooth, which interferes with his assimilation of food, so he says, and he claims to be in danger of starving. "Doc" weighed himself this morning and found he had gained five pounds on the trip from Brooklyn, despite the fact that the players had to take pot-luck on the growth of the tooth over night made up the difference in his weight.

The Superbas brought good weather with them, and there was a big Saturday crowd out to welcome the Cardinals, who had made a good record in the East, winning nine of fifteen games. Patsy Donovan reported his pet to be in first class shape for the long season at home. Hughes and Farrell were selected as the Brooklyn battery, and the O'Neill brothers were down to win for the Cardinals.

A consultation with Captain Kelley, Manager Hanlon decided to line up his crippled aggregation with McGraw in left field, Luke Farrell at first and Ahearn behind the bat. The latter leading off the batting order. This strategy, the strongest point that could be put forward under the circumstances.

GEORGE GRAY TO COMPETE AGAIN.

Ex-Champion and Record-Holder at Shot-Putting Returns to the Game.

Champion James E. Sullivan received yesterday a letter from George R. Gray, the ex-champion record-holder at putting the sixteen-pound shot, stating that it was his intention to compete in the Championships this fall, and he sent in his entry for the Metropolitan Association championships on Aug. 20. As George R. Gray is not a member of the association, he will not be eligible to present himself at the National Meeting on Sept. 13 at Travers. However, he will compete at the National Meeting on Sept. 13 at Travers. He will merely enter as a registered athlete.

"YOUNG CORBETT" QUILTS HIS CONNECTICUT QUARTERS.

McGovern's Coming Opponent to Arrive Here To-Night and Start for Cincinnati Monday.

(Special to The Evening World.) HARTFORD, Conn., Aug. 15.—"Young Corbett" with his manager and saw Corbett start, will break camp at Uncasville to-day and go to New York, arriving at 5:30 P. M. They will stay in New York until Monday, when they will leave for Cincinnati, where Corbett will finish training at quarters once used by Kid McCoy.

"Young Corbett" said: "I have been training, of course, with the hope that the fight would be held on Aug. 23. This change will make no difference, however. I will be in first-class condition when we meet in Louisville."

John L. Sullivan visited the camp last evening after dinner and saw Corbett go several rounds. He was much impressed at the way Corbett boxed, and complimented the trainers on their work. John Considine, of New York, spent the afternoon with Corbett. He was pleased with the appearance of the champion, and said that he was sure to win in changing hands. W. L. Crowley said that the change of battle-ground means a big loss to him. He contracted for the building of the arena at New London, the work upon which has been done way far several days, and he has expected several hundred dollars for advertising posters and preliminary work. He was confident that in New York and New London he would have the place of combat pulled off, and he said he was confident that everything would be all right until Thursday.

The State's attorney, in a letter, threatened to sue the Mayor of New London for a $10,000 fine for two years imprisonment for his act in forbidding the fight.

CHAMPIONSHIP CRICKET TO-DAY.

The two chief games of the day are the matches between the Knickerbocker A. C. and Manhattan, at Bayonne, and between Livingston and Brooklyn, at Staten Island.
